HEARTRENDING INCIDENT.

At the Grave of the Late Mr. Clay Clinkinbeard at Columbus, O.

The Columbus Dispatch, in its issue of Friday, April 6th, contains this reference to the funeral of Mr. Clay Clinkinbeard, late a resident of this city:

One of the most pathetic incidents that has been witnessed at Green Lawn for years occurred late yesterday afternoon. The grave services over the remains of the late Clay Clinkinbeard had been performed by Rev. Mr. Eberly, and friends of the young man and relatives were formed in a circle about the grave to watch the remains being lowered to their last resting place.

A young woman, sister of the deceased, stood motionless as the box commenced to descend, when all of a sudden she became transfixed like a statue of marble, and began to sing the most beautiful piece that was ever heard by the on-lookers.

ROMANTIC WEDDING.

Owingsville Couple Left Late, Arrived Early and Married.

Mr. Walker Horseman, aged 21, of Owingsville, and Miss Clio Williams, also 21, of Ford's Hill, Bath county, left their homes at 9 o'clock Saturday night in haste and a hack, bound for this city and matrimony.

They were accompanied by a couple of mutual friends and well wishers, Mr. Thomas Stone and Miss Ethel Coyle. Everything went merry as a dinner bell until 4 o'clock yesterday morning, when the party reined up at the New Central.

It was some time before Easter Sunday County Clerk Pollitt could be found to issue the necessary license, but success finally crowned the effort.

About 6 o'clock Messrs. Gabe Snedeker and Anskor Huston, also of Owingsville, put in an appearance, the former having played a strong hand for the fair lady's heart—and lost. His presence, however, had for a time a quieting effect on his successful rival's nerves, but everything ended pleasantly, Mr. Snedeker finally concluding that Miss Williams was not the only honeysuckle on the vine.

Armed with the proper permission, Mr. Horseman requested the presence of a Parson, when the Rev. Dr. John Barbour was called to perform the marriage rite.

After a royal wedding breakfast all the parties set sail for home and happiness.

Judge Louis Walther, brother of Mr. Charles A. Walther of this city, is the new Mayor of Georgetown, O.

ONCE LIVED HERE.

V. A. Antonella Worked For Hechinger & Co. a Few Years Ago.

At Lexington Saturday night Dr. Joseph K. Parker shot and killed Veto A. Antonella.

The fight took place in front of a grocery in which the men had quarreled shortly before.

Each man had repaired to his home, returned with a revolver and began firing at each other at sight. It is claimed that Antonella shot first. Three shots were exchanged. Parker was not hit, but Antonella received Parker's third bullet in his left side and died within an hour.

Dr. Parker has been in Lexington for some years and is well known.

Antonella was a tailor and resided with his family three doors from Dr. Parker's home.

The men were not friends, and when Antonella declared in the grocery that, excepting the grocery keeper, not a man on the street would tell the truth, Dr. Parker took exceptions to the remark.

They first fought with their fists, Parker getting the best of the fight. Dr. Parker was arrested and is in jail. A few years ago Antonella and his wife resided at the Hill House in this city, the former being employed by Hechinger & Co.

His funeral will occur today.

CHILDREN KIDNAPPED.

Mr. J. Hawthorne Hill's Sad Misfortune in His Eastern Home.

The many friends in this city of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hawthorne Hill will regret to learn that two of their children are missing from their home at Flushing, N. Y., and it is believed that they have been kidnapped.

The missing children are Hawthorne Hill, Jr., and Henry Sawyer Hill, the eight-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, who live at 205 Sanford avenue.

The little ones were last seen by their mother at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

They had returned from school and finished their luncheon. Mrs. Hill left them alone in the dining-room, and she thought nothing of the fact that her children were not at their places at the table when she returned.

They had often played about the village streets, but always returned in the afternoon.

Mr. Hill, who is a newspaper man, returned home from his office in Manhattan late in the afternoon.

Mrs. Hill became worried over the absence of the twins and sent her maid out to look for them.

Their playmates had seen nothing of them all the afternoon.

The police sent out a general alarm, but at midnight no trace of the boys had been found.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill were former residents of this city, where Mr. Hill was engaged in journalism.

Their many friends here will join THE LEDGER in the sincere hope that their loved ones may be restored to them.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Master Ward Nash, who has opened a neat cigar and tobacco stand at No. 3 West Second, has started on the road that leads to success. He has begun by advertising his business—letting people know that he has goods to sell, and inviting them to patronize him. Such enterprise not only deserves success, but it will achieve it.

Thos. W. Carter of Ashboro, N. C., had kidney trouble and one bottle of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a perfect cure, and he says there is no other remedy that will compare with it. Accept no substitute. J. Jas. Wood & Son and Armstrong & Co.

The river is about stationary here.

The Lizzie Bay will be up tonight for Pomeroy.

The Avalon from Pomeroy will pass down tonight.

The Virginia will pass down tonight from Pittsburgh.

Owners of Ohio river packets have started a boycott on the town of Clarington, O., and hereafter no freight or passengers will be received for that place, as the boats refuse to land there. The town is without railroad communication, and the river affords its 1,000 inhabitants the only means of transportation. The trouble was caused by the Town Council passing an ordinance placing a yearly tax on all steamboats that land at the new town wharf.

The idea of organizing the Ohio Valley Improvement Association was for the purpose of concentrated and continuous efforts to secure a navigable stage of water in the Ohio river, not only between Pittsburgh and Cairo, but also in the various important tributary streams, the entire year. This organization should be encouraged by Maysville people, as it means the bringing of thousands of dollars to our merchants every year that they don't get at all. The drainage area of the Ohio river system is 201,720 square miles, with a population of 10,985,577, according to the last census. The commerce of this great highway for five years is given to show of what vast importance it is to those who have shipping to do. The table shows the total tons of merchandise moved during the years named:

1890	6,802,527
1891	7,276,510
1892	6,901,186
1893	7,371,804
1894	7,705,501
